"WE TAKE CARE"

who owns the dwelling—the business property—that stands in your name?

of course you think that you do; but are you right?

the question is worth considering, it involves the origin and the development of individual ownership in land.

In the beginning of civilization no man owned any definite part of the earth. nomadic tribes camped over particular sections of it; homes and trading places were not fixed; land was too plentiful for individuals to dispute over the occupancy of any particular spot.

The Chautauqua

The audiences are growing larger each day as the Chautauqua progresses and the program increases in attractiveness. Its success gives rise to the hope that future years will see annually Chautauqua seasons on a larger scale and for a longer period in this city.

The piano contest Saturday afternoon, following a full concert by the Hearns Sisters, was the occasion of many friends of the contestants gathering with the Chautauqua patrons to enjoy a most pleasant hour and a half. Entering the contest were Misses Mabel Aiken, Isabel Davis, Cevie Roberts, Mattie Lee Lock Evans, Idalie Collins, Margaret Little and Master Webster Gillen.

Each number showed careful preparation on the part of the student and the thorough training of their teachers. The judges included the Hearns Sisters, and Miss Ethel Haycraft, a most competent local musician. The contestants were judged on the following points: Interpretation, technique, position and memory work.

Miss Mabel Aiken was the fortunate winner of the handsome gold medal, the gift of the Chautauqua association. Her number was "La Cachuca Caprice," by Raff, which she played with good style and brilliancy. Her interpretation was rather unusual in a student of her years. The second honors were bestowed upon Miss Isabel Davis, who played Hayden's "Gipsy Rondo." This number was marked for clean technique and flexibility, giving pleasure to Miss Davis' friends. Both of these young musicians are to be warmly congratulated, as is Miss Marguerite Porter, their teacher, upon whom Miss Aiken and Davis reflected distinct credit. Special mention should be made of the delightful number of youthful Webster Gillen, which captivated the audience and he was the recipient of an enthusiastic encore. The Chautauqua management is to be commended for the inauguration in Ocala of this important movement which is universally popular in all colleges, conservatories and schools of the east. Contests of this nature are comparatively new in the South, but are gaining steadily in favor among all progressive educators. It is sincerely hoped that this commendable advance movement will be adopted as one of the permanent features of the Chautauqua and participated in by students of music not only in Ocala, but from surrounding counties.

The evening program opened at 8 o'clock with another delightful program by the Hearns Sisters. Their numbers were greatly enjoyed.

It was a pleasure indeed for all present to have the opportunity of hearing the sweet voice of Miss Musie Bullock. Her number was when "Katie Tuned the Old Guitar," followed by "The Rosary," which was given in response to a generous encore. She was accompanied on the piano by Miss Ethel Haycraft. Miss Bullock was followed by Master Gillen, who by request played his concert number.

Miss Gay Zenola MacLaren, reader and impersonator, who Friday night delighted the largest audience of the present Chautauqua with her excellent portrayal of the characters in "Bought and Paid For," was once more the attraction Saturday night when she gave the charming play, "Daddy Longlegs," by Ruth Chatterton. Miss MacLaren is a favorite with all, especially the children, and in her audience was a large number of her juvenile admirers.

Sunday Attractions

Beginning at 3 o'clock an interdenominational service was held. A large choir composed of members of the various church choirs sang the doxology and "All Hail the Power of Jesus' Name." Mrs. A. L. Izlar playing the piano accompaniment.

Secretary Rooney introduced the speaker of the afternoon, Dr. T. W. Hughes, dean of the law college of the University of Florida, who discussed the "Legal Aspects of the Crucifixion of Christ."

Dr. Hughes said there are 18 reasons why the proceedings were null and void and that the entire matter from the first arrest of Christ was from a legal standpoint, irregular. According to the Jewish law, testimony of an accomplice was unlawful, but this, he said, was used in the case of Jesus. The testimony was illegal also because it took place at night and because it was disclosed through the agency of a traitor. The hearing before Caiaphas was illegal also, because it was at night, took place before a single judge and secret. The hearing before Pilate was all illegal, according to Jewish law. Two separate crimes were charged against Jesus in the indictment, namely: blasphemy and sedition. The trial before the Sanhedrin was irregular because it took place on the feast of the Passover, was finished in one day and many of the Sanhedrin were not eligible. The sentence of death was illegal because it was based on the confession of Jesus.

Dr. Hughes spoke at length, discussing many phases of his subject, and many matters in connection with the trial which do not appear in the Biblical narrative.

Presbyterian Social

The Ladies Aid Society of the Presbyterian church held its monthly meeting this afternoon at the home of Mrs. William McDowell on Fort King avenue.

The home was charmingly adorned with dogwood, pansies, violets and other spring flowers. The afternoon was delightfully informal and assisting in entertaining the guests were Misses Mary and Anna McDowell and Mrs. S. P. Hollinrake. Misses Nellie Gottlieb and Musie Bullock gave several enjoyable instrumental and vocal numbers.

Mrs. J. V. Perkins and Miss Alice Campbell presided at the daintily appointed dining table, pouring tea and chocolate, which was served with salad, wafers and pickles by Misses Bessie MacKay and Bettie McIver.

The tea was well attended and the silver offering amounted to several dollars.

Mrs. F. E. Mathews and son Francis, of Silver Springs, have concluded a visit to relatives at Fort Pierce and are guests now of their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Mathews at Fort Lauderdale. They will shortly return home accompanied by Mrs. C. H. Mathews of Candler, who has been visiting on the east coast for several weeks.

Miss Florence Brooks of New York, who is spending the winter at Lake Weir, is the guest of Miss Bessie MacKay. In the morning Miss MacKay will be hostess to an informal sewing party, honoring Miss Brooks.

Misses Marguerite Porter, Virginia Sistrunk and Tommie Standley are home from Gainesville, where they went Friday to attend the University German club dance that evening.

Friends will regret to hear of the illness of Mrs. G. K. Williams at her home on Pine street.

The reading club will meet tomorrow at 3 o'clock with Mrs. J. J. Gerig. The club will begin the study of "The Education of a Music Lover."

Mr. Charles Chandler of I. Epstein & Bros. Co., Savannah, arrived yesterday from Tampa. He is accompanied by his charming wife, and they will remain in the city until tomorrow, guests at the Harrington.

Mr. and Mrs. Louren Newton Green are receiving congratulations on the birth of a dainty daughter Saturday evening at 6 o'clock at the Marion County Hospital. The little lady will be christened Elizabeth Sims.

Mrs. E. M. Overstreet, Miss Mabel Overstreet and Miss Martha Stegall of Eustis, were week-end guests of Mrs. S. W. Igou.

The Methodist sewing circle spent a pleasant afternoon with Mrs. Mereson on Fort King avenue.

Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Osborn, accompanied by Miss Kathleen Jackson, left this morning for Tampa. They will be away until Friday.

Yesterday was an eventful day for the Methodists of Homosassa. Their pretty new church was dedicated, Bishop H. C. Morrison of Leesburg, officiating.
